THE STRIKE SITUATION

There is no danger of the "big four" railroad transportation brotherhoods being drawn into a sympathetic strike, even should negotiations to end the strike of the shop crafts workers fail.

This was the declaration made by Warren S. Stone, president of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, and D. B. Robertson, president of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engineers, on their return to their homes in Cleveland, Ohio, from New York and Washington, where for ten days they have attempted to mediate the shopmen's controversies.

Neither would comment on the progress of the negotiations. "I can't make any comment on the progress of the negotiations," Mr. Stone said. "Too much has been said already."

"We were acting as mediators and mediators only prejudice their usefulness by talking," Mr. Robertson said. "I would rather not be asked to say anything until the conferences are over. I can't make any predictions now."

Asked what position the brotherhood will be in if the negotiations fail, Mr. Stone said they "will be in the same position they were in before. The strike will simply go on."

Mr. Stone also refused to comment on President Harding's address placing the strike situation before Congress, which he said President Harding had discussed with the brotherhood chiefs.

PROTEST HIGH STREET BEING MADE SPEEDWAY

Residents of High street are making a vigorous protest against the street being used a speedway for aspiring motorists and reckless speedsters. A Paris business man who resides on South High street called THE NEWS yesterday afternoon and asked to call attention of the authorities of the city to the utter disregard of life and limb and the anti-speed ordinances, shown by these drivers, especially on Sunday afternoon and night. He stated that at times it was almost impossible to get across the street, except at the risk of being run over by the speed demons. Cutouts wide open, lightless headlights, machines left standing with engine running, in fact, almost every conceivable kind of violation of the speed laws that are especially prohibited by ordinance, were noted by him, forming the basis for his complaint.

PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS ACTIVITIES

The Paris playgrounds are in for a full program of events for this week. With only two weeks before the season closes, each of the three baseball teams is working hard for the pennant. The attendance continues to climb, with the Wilson leading, and the Brennan second.

Last night the children of the Brennan playground gave a "weiner roast" that was greatly enjoyed by all the participants. To-night Miss Bertha Miller, of Lexington, will give a program of negro dialect readings on the Wilson playground. Before the program the children will have a peanut hunt on the grounds. This afternoon the City School girls baseball team will play the Wilson playground team, and the Brennan team on Thursday afternoon. Both these games will be played on the City School playgrounds.

Thursday afternoon Miss Calloway will entertain the children of the City School with a tacky party. Two prizes will be given to the boy and girl wearing the tackiest costume.

Friday afternoon the baby show will take place on the City School playgrounds. All mothers having babies under three years of age are asked to bring them to the baby show. A prize will be given to the most perfect baby. Saturday afternoon the Wilson baseball team will play the City School playground team, on Hancock Field. The Brennan team will play the Wilson team on the Hancock Field Wednesday afternoon.

All the children are looking forward to the big Community Service picnic to be held on Labor Day. A program will be given in the afternoon for the special benefit of the children.

Anyone who wishes to enter the tennis tournament is urged to come to the office of the Community Service and register. Handsome cups will be given as prizes by Mrs. Robt. C. Talbott and Dr. M. H. Dailey.

There were three shutout games in the Blue Grass League Thursday, batting averages being devastated everywhere except in the Maysville lineup. But strange as it may seem, each of these games was played in two hours and ten minutes. There isn't much speed, especially for pitchers' battles. In the three games only seven runs were scored.

It took eleven innings of heart-breaking baseball for the Mammoths to down their jinx opponents, the Lexington Studebakers, at League Park Saturday. The game seesawed back and forth, goosenecks being plentiful, Paris finally putting across a winning run in the eleventh inning. The score was tied several times, then somebody would pull off some play that relieved the tension. The sum and substance of the story is that Paris won the game by a score of 6 to 5. For the first five innings it seemed to the spectators that the Paris team was doing all they could to give the game to their opponents, or the old Lexington hoodoo was still working. But by hard hitting and fast fielding after they had become thoroughly awake, Paris overcame the Studies and landed victory.

Brockman hurt his finger so badly in the ninth inning that he was forced to retire from the game, Hurst taking his place behind the bat. Parsons, who took the mound after he had gone in to run for Blakefield in the ninth, pitched winning ball, and gets credit for the game. Cicona's running catch in the fourth inning robbed Charlie Ellis of a three-bagger. Parsons did not allow hit in the two innings he pitched. The batteries were: For Paris—Parsons, Blakefield, Brockman and Hurst; for Lexington—Walton and Monk. Time of game, two hours and forty minutes. Eilers umpired.

Lexington came right back at Paris in the game played at League Park, Sunday afternoon, and, in the presence of what was undoubtedly the largest crowd of the season, defeated the victors of the day before by the score of 8 to 4. Paris used all their pitchers in an effort to down the Studies, but the odds were against them. The game was a batting rampage, with Lexington hammering the ball to all parts of the lot, and Paris chasing. Dean, twirling for Lexington, held Paris safe. Bush Meadows, Lexington outfielder, hit the ball for a homer over the center field fence in the seventh inning, and some cynical observer asserted that it was passing Cynthiana when last heard from. The drive brought in Monahan and Ellis, who had singled ahead of him. This same homer sent Parsons to the bench, Blakefield and Hurst finished the game. The absence of Brockman, whose finger was hurt in a previous game, caused a considerable change in the Paris line-up. Hurst has played every position on the Paris infield, plus pitcher and catcher. Nippert covered himself with glory by pulling down a long hit by Ellis that seemed good for three bases, taking the ball almost off the top of the fence. The batteries were: For Paris, Wills, Parsons, Blakefield, Hurst and Macke. Time of game, two hours and twenty-five minutes. Eilers umpired.

Rush Meadows, who performed so spectacularly for the Lexington team in Sunday's game, will be in the right field garden for the Paris team in the game with Lexington at League Park, Thursday. Valentine, the best in the business, will be on the twirling mound, which is ample guarantee of increased gate receipts and a big attendance. Billy Kuhlman, old Blue Grass League star, will play third base in this game. Kuhlman will be remembered as one of the best third sackers who ever held a mitt in the old Blue Grass League.

Reports to the effect that Paris had given releases to several members of the pitching staff, which were current on the streets yesterday, were declared to be without foundation, according to good authority. The

PRIDE FOR OUR "GOODIE"

The sporting writer on the Cynthiana Democrat compliments Umpire B. F. Goodman, of Paris, in a recent article in The Democrat, as follows:

"What is a mystery to Cynthiana fans is why Umpire Goodman is not assigned to more games in which our team plays? Goodman is without doubt the best umpire in the league and always gives each team what is coming to it. But instead of Goodman, Cynthiana has to put up with Bob Spade at home and such as Webb on the road. Spade is a good umpire when the moon and other signs are right, but they haven't been right for Bob for some time. Webb is no umpire at all. It is said that Business Manager Jess Morton, of the Lexington club, refused to allow Webb to umpire in a game in that city recently and that he had Goodman sent there. Goodman had been assigned to the Winchester-Cynthiana game and by Morton's request the change was made. Cynthiana should try to have that stunt pulled on Spade and Webb. Goodman was at the park and umpired bases. Spade balls and strikes and Bob was unusually bad in his decisions."

FIRE DESTROYS WOODFORD COUNTY HOME

The two-story frame dwelling of James Searcy, two and one-half miles from Versailles, on the Crawfish pike, was destroyed by fire about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The loss was about $3,000. The fire was caused by a defective flue, it is believed.

No lives have been lost in the air mail service for a year. A plane can't fall with the stuff they write nowadays.

Present staff are doing very well, and will be kept on active duty.

Baylin, the new recruit to the Mammoth's pitching staff, is from Meade, Pa., and was for several terms a student at St. Mary's College, near Lebanon, where he was a classmate of Lauthman Woods, of Paris. He was with the Louisville American Association team, and made a good record. He is spoken of as a twirler of much ability and is anxious to be put on his mettle with the Paris team.

Howard Turner has sold his stock in the Lexington team to Jesse Morton, who is now practically its owner, the only other stockholders being L. E. Griffin and Roy Perkins.

STOLEN CAR FOUND NEAR PARIS

An Essex machine, belonging to the Tiptop Taxicab Co., of Lexington, stolen Sunday morning, was found Sunday afternoon abandoned on the side of the Lexington pike, at a point about three miles from Paris. The machine was found by a garage mechanic who had been sent out from Lexington on a still hunt for it. On the seat was found a revolver belonging to Robt. Stewart, driver, from whom the car was stolen, with a card attached bearing the message: "Be careful and do not drop this or you may hurt yourself. I thank you. Boots."

Stewart stated that he had two passengers Sunday morning shortly after midnight, and he had taken one to an address on East Third street, in Lexington, and while at a point on the Russell Cave pike, near Lexington, the other man had held him up at the point of a revolver, taking the machine and $2.00 in cash.

Stewart came back to Lexington and notified the police. The Paris and Bourbon county authorities were notified, and instituted a search for the stolen car. The machine was found to be in good shape, except that it had run out of gasoline.

GENUINE ORIENTAL TREASURES AT THE GRAND

One of the unusual scenes in "Lavender and Old Lace" is the interior of Mary Ainslie's home.

Mary Ainslie was in love with a young sea captain, and it was his habit to bring her treasures from the Orient on his return from foreign shores. In later years these treasures were very dear to her, and she would show them to her friends upon their visit to her home.

The city of Los Angeles was scoured to secure genuine Japanese vases and other Oriental wares to be used in these scenes. In later years these treasures were very dear to her, and she would show them to her friends upon their visit to her home.

"Lavender and Old Lace," released by Hadkinson, will be shown at the Alamo and Grand Wednesday afternoon and evening.

FARMER DIES SUDDENLY

While working cutting tobacco in a field on the farm of Ed Wagoner, on the Blacks Cross Roads pike, near Paris, yesterday morning, Ed Mitchell, aged about sixty, dropped dead. Mr. Mitchell, in company with J. F. Dalzell and several others, were at work in the field. He had been complaining of not feeling very well. Mr. Dalzell heard him gasp and turned just in time to see him fall to the ground. He hurried to his side, but found that life was extinct. A physician was called but his services were not needed.

Coroner Rudolph Davis was summoned, and viewed the body. After hearing the statements of the men who had been working with Mr. Mitchell, Coroner Davis decided no inquest was necessary, and gave the cause of death as heart trouble.

Mr. Mitchell had been residing with Mr. Dalzell for the past five years, and had the reputation of being a quiet, unassuming, industrious man. Several years ago while working with a threshing outfit he was overcome by heat. He was unmerciful, and is survived by three brothers, Morton Mitchell of Paris, Frank Mitchell, of Spears Mill, and Russell Mitchell, of Millersburg, and one sister, Mrs. Fielding Lancaster, who made her home with her brother, Frank Mitchell, at Spears Mill. Mr. Mitchell was a cousin of John H. Doty, of Paris.

The body was taken to the home of Russell Mitchell, in Millersburg. The funeral arrangements had not been completed as THE NEWS went to press last night.

We haven't yet heard of anybody trying to borrow money by radio, but our faith in progress is so strong we know it will be done eventually.

Moral—It pays to advertise in THE NEWS.

Paris educator says that Babe Ruth is a menace to the schools of the country. Now, who would ever think for one moment that the study of batting averages would hurt any boy's arithmetic.

An observer declares that Americans have an inborn masculinity of character. We have seen a few Americans here in Paris clad in Knickerbockers this summer who hadn't an inborn masculinity of figure or demeanor, either.

Doubtless a psychologist and a psychoanalist could get together and explain why a girl may wear Knickerbockers and call herself "Billie" or "Jack" or "Sammie," without losing face, while a young man wearing a skirt and calling himself "Ethel" or "Angela" would be drummed out of town.

If Paris people had only to dodge automobiles that comply with the law, it would be easy. But when they have to dodge machines without license tags or with only one tag, one light or no lights, road hogs, wooden heads at the wheel, they have to be pretty active persons to keep from being run over.

The following note has been received from an anxious subscriber:

Paris, Ky., Aug. 21.

Dear Flings:
Please suggest a place to spend my summer vacation, where there is plenty of light, beautiful scenery, no mosquitoes, and no tipping.

LAWRENCE.—Dear Lawrence—If after you've tried camping on Stoner creek, you're dissatisfied, try to get to Heaven, the next best place.

According to a Paris fellow, "it only takes a thimbleful of brains to find fault." Denunciation is one of the cheapest and easiest ways to attract attention. Cuss words are always more interesting than compliments. It is even said that the moving pictures "are corrupting the morals of the country, when as a matter of fact, the movies are no better and no worse than the people who look at them, and the age in which we live. The movies and the people who visit them both contain elements that are bad, but when sifted down the elements that are good, and wholesome predominate.

The ostrich is certainly a bird at making excuses; it really takes the plume, if we can credit the Arabians. They call it the camel bird, and in some of their sayings it took advantages of the name in this manner: "They said to the camel bird, 'Carry,' it said: 'I cannot, for I am a bird.' They said: 'Then fly!' It answered: 'I cannot, for I am a camel.'—Bob-

INSURANCE MEN NOTIFIED OF LAW PROVISIONS

Forty-six insurance companies, including reciprocals and mutuals, which do business in Kentucky without agents, were notified by Insurance Commissioner James F. Ramey that they must secure agent's licenses before they can continue to operate in this State. Section 762a of the Kentucky statutes provides that no insurance company shall write any policy for direct insurance upon any property in this commonwealth, except through an agent licensed in this Commonwealth.

Insurance Commissioner Ramey expects to enforce this provision of the statutes and in cases of violations will impose the penalty prescribed by law.

The attention of Commissioner Ramey has also been directed to the practice of certain casualty insurance companies and agents issuing bid bonds to contractors free of charge, without collecting any premium. The State is entitled to the tax on premiums collected for bids bonds as well as all other bonds written by insurance companies in this State.

TENDENCY TO RESTRICT EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

There is to-day a growing tendency throughout the country to restrict the educational opportunity to young men and young women of wealth. This tendency, exclaims a popular magazine. Not only, says this magazine, have the educational requirements for beginning the study of medicine been raised, but the expense of "going through" has become so much greater that it is already prohibitive for thousands of bright young fellows who have the brains and the ambition. This prohibitive tendency is becoming a real danger. It is not so much of what you know nowadays, but how rich you are. The poor boy is being driven away from our colleges, therefore, into other channels which offer bigger prizes at smaller sacrifice.

HENRY FORD AND THE RAILROADS

Railroads, in the opinion of Henry Ford, are for the sole purpose of transportation. They may be so twisted as to be used for some other purpose for a time; but the other fellow will eventually get tired of it. The trouble to-day with the railroads, they are charging all the traffic will bear instead of figuring out what the consumer would pay for a product or service, and then making the best of each for that amount. Were it not for the Interstate Commerce Commission law, Henry Ford would cut railroad rates on his road in half and then have a bonanza.

HAWAII YIELDS BIG REVENUE TO AMERICA

A total of $67,525,293.46 has been contributed by Hawaii to the federal treasury during the past 20 years, according to figures on internal revenue receipts just made public by Colonel J. Waller Jones, collector of internal revenue for the territory of Hawaii.

Internal revenue collections for the year 1921-22, which are now going forward to Washington, amount to $15,444,064.79, a slight decrease from the preceding year.

A KENTUCKY PRODIGY

Every now and then Kentucky comes forward with some sort of prodigy. Many stories have been printed of the freak and weird accomplishments of illiterate persons devoid of any knowledge of the science they appear to have mastered by some strange gift.

Some twenty years ago there lived in Shelby county a negro who went by the nickname of "Arithmetic Sam." He was a mathematical prodigy, and despite the fact that he did not know "A from bull foot," or one number from another if printed in circus poster type, he could solve the most difficult mathematical problem given him by a subconscious process. Whether in arithmetic, algebra or geometry, he came along with the answer to the test and offhand could solve a problem that required some figuring by the ordinary person. He was a perpetual calendar, and could quickly tell the day of the week of a given date in any century. Capitalization of his talent was impossible because of his dense ignorance and otherwise low mental caliber.

TEST EINSTEIN THEORY

Photograph Stars in Investigation of Light Rays.

Expeditions Will Go to Australia to Make Astronomical Observations When Sun Goes Into Total Eclipse.

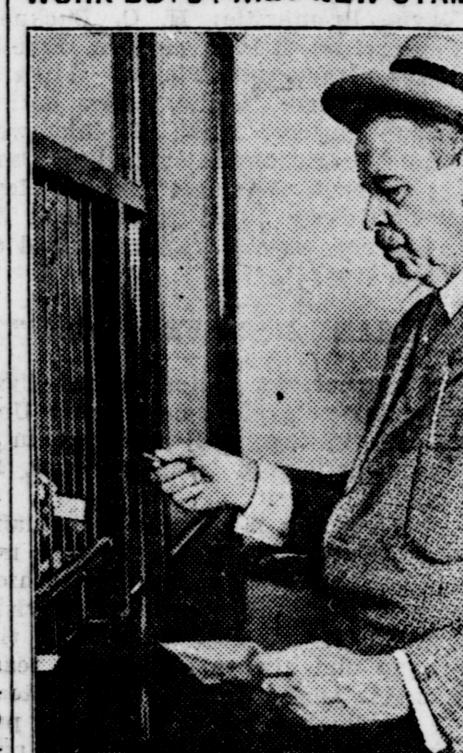

Papeete, Tahiti.—Preliminary observations were made here in April and May by Dr. Robert Trumpler, assistant director of the Lick observatory on Mount Hamilton, California, in preparation for final astronomical observations in northern Australia to prove or disprove the part of Einstein's theory of relativity which has to do with the composition and characteristics of light.

Various astronomical expeditions will gather on the northern coast of Australia September 21 to take their observations when the sun goes into total eclipse that day. Doctor Trumpler's work here has been to photograph, on a large scale, the stars in that part of the heavens where the sun will be on September 21. On the day of the eclipse, when the sun is totally obscured and the stars are visible, similar photographs will be taken on the same scale.

Einstein's contention is that light is not, as scientists hitherto have held, the very rapid vibrations of the all-pervading ether, but is made up of electrons and therefore is a form of matter. If light is matter in any form, it will be subject to the law of gravitation, and it is to establish or disprove this point that the observations are being made here and in Australia.

If Einstein's theory of light is well founded, according to Doctor Trumpler, the rays of light from a star in that quarter of the heavens passing by so large a mass as the sun will be deflected by the force of the sun's gravitation and the star in question will appear on the photographic plate at a place slightly removed from its true position in a direction away from the sun's disk.

PASSPORT VISES EXPENSIVE

Every Central European State Multiplies Passing American $10 at Frontier.

Belgrade, Jugoslavia.—Collecting $10 gold from American travelers every time a passport is vised continues to be one of the popular occupations of officials of the states of central Europe.

Any American who wishes to visit one of the countries must pass the frontiers of several of the others and at each frontier the charge is $10 a head and $10 every time he passes. One American business man within the past three months has paid $120. "But don't blame us, blame your State department," said a representative of the Jugo-Slavian foreign office. "It is a matter of reciprocity with us; we charge the same fee as does the United States."

Japanese Department Store Starts Giving Clerks Hebdomadal Rest.

Tokyo, Japan.—The clerks of Japan, who heretofore have had few if any holidays during the year, are hoping much from the inauguration of a weekly rest day by a large department store of Osaka.

The Tokyo chamber of commerce and other bodies have taken the matter up with a view to the adoption of a similar system here where there are a number of large department stores conducted on American lines.

Heretofore the stores have remained open seven days a week the year around, and the employees have had a few days at New Year's and during the feast of the head in summer.

AMERICAN LEGION TO HOLD STATE MEETING

The Fourth Annual Convention of the American Legion, Department of Kentucky, will be held in Glasgow, Barren county, Kentucky, August 28, 29 and 30, 1922.

The Commander of the Post at Glasgow, Ky., has secured a list, from every State in the United States and its possessions, of those who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War and these names will be placed inside a receptacle that will rest within the Memorial for all time. The Memorial will be erected in the "Rotunda" of "Mammoth Cave" and all will be permitted to witness and participate in these exercises free of cost. National Commander Hanford MacNider and others will deliver the Memorial addresses. These exercises will take place Wednesday, August 30th.

No one need remain away through fear of not securing sleeping accommodations—ample provision has been made to protect and safeguard this. The good people of Glasgow and Barren county are too well known for their generous and hospitable treatment of the stranger with their gates to cause the least apprehension as to ability to care for all who will honor the occasion with their presence.

TUBERCULOSIS AND PNEUMONIA CAUSE MOST DEATHS

Compilation of figures just completed shows that pneumonia and tuberculosis, two of the diseases which formerly were responsible for the most deaths in Kentucky, had fewer victims in 1921 than in any year since the establishment of the State Board of Health's Bureau of Vital Statistics, J. F. Blackerby, Registrar of Vital Statistics, has announced.

As a result of this reduction, from 150.4 to 129.2 per 100,000 in the case of tuberculosis, Kentucky, according to Mr. Blackerby, probably will climb out of the unenviable position as the third State in which the most deaths are caused by tuberculosis. The reduction in the pneumonia death rate was from 117.5 in 1920, to 84.4 in 1921.

KEEP SNAKES TO DESTROY RODENTS

The promised revival of water transportation would mean much to Kentucky with its great stretch of river frontage and the numerous navigable streams that course through the State. With the Ohio River fronting the northern boundary, the Mississippi on the west and the Big Sandy on the east, few States have better natural river transportation facilities than Kentucky, and if water traffic again is resumed on an extensive scale, the State would be the beneficiary in development and progress.

Besides the boundary streams other navigable waterways that run through the State are the Cumberland, Tennessee, Kentucky, Green and Barren rivers. Upon the most of these rivers the Federal Government has expended vast sums for their improvement in the interest of safe and uninterrupted navigation.

The railroad strike and the predicted fuel shortage have directed more attention to the possibilities of river transportation in Kentucky and may hasten the time when its rivers will team with traffic incident to the increased development of the natural resources adjacent to the waterways.

With the speedy completion of the improvement of the upper Cumberland under Federal auspices making it navigable the year round as far as Burnsides, Kentucky will have water transportation facilities hardly approached by any other State.

Whenever the river traffic revival comes Kentucky will be among the first to profit by it.

Upon the most of these rivers the Federal Government has expended vast sums for their improvement in the interest of safe and uninterrupted navigation.

The railroad strike and the predicted fuel shortage have directed more attention to the possibilities of river transportation in Kentucky and may hasten the time when its rivers will team with traffic incident to the increased development of the natural resources adjacent to the waterways.

With the speedy completion of the improvement of the upper Cumberland under Federal auspices making it navigable the year round as far as Burnsides, Kentucky will have water transportation facilities hardly approached by any other State.

Whenever the river traffic revival comes Kentucky will be among the first to profit by it.

DODGING THE DOG TAX.

Dodging the dog tax seems to have become a general practice in Kentucky and little effort appears to be made to enforce the payment of the impost fixed by law. This situation is stressed by recent instances of blanket pardons issued by the Governor to persons indicted for non-payment, relieving them from the fines and costs imposed on condition that they pay the dog tax.

Pardons were granted to approximately 500 persons in two counties who tried to evade the dog tax and this is regarded as reflecting a similar condition in practically every other county where payment of the dog tax is looked upon in the nature of a voluntary offering. Only recently the published financial statement of an otherwise progressive county showed that of over 1,400 dogs listed the tax had been paid on only 107.

Sometime ago over 1,600 indictments were returned in a single county against delinquent dog tax owners, but the prosecutions were dismissed conditions on the payment of the tax. In most counties the evasion of the dog taxes seems to be overlooked, with the result that only a comparatively few of the dog owners show any inclination to settle with the tax gatherer.

The dog owner may have no other property but he has a vote and usually strong prejudices against the impost. This is a political way may account for the apparent disinclination of officials to resort to harsh measures in forcing the collection of what to many is an odious tax that justifies any means of "getting by" without paying for the privilege of keeping "Tige" or "Old Ring."

BOMAR TRIPS OFF

On account of the railroad strike, and the general uncertainty regarding transportation, the Bomar trips to Atlantic City, scheduled to start to-day, was declared off. Several Paris and Bourbon county people had arranged to go with the party. The trips will probably be arranged for a later date.

XALAPA YEARLINGS BRING TOTAL OF $75,000.

It remained for the yearlings from Edward F. Simms' Xalapa Farm, Paris, to furnish the best average of any of the Fasig-Tipton sales this season to date, when 20 of them went under the hammer at Saratoga, New York, Thursday night, and brought a total of $75,200. This was an average of $3,450 each, while the best previous mark was that of A. B. Hancock's youngsters, $3,295 apiece.

The Simms collection presented a fine appearance and bidding was spirited throughout the night on them. The star of the band was a bay colt by Broomstick—Even Break, the first of the progeny of this sire put up at the sales, and he went to Monford Jones for $11,500. The first bid on him was $5,000, with B. A. Jones making the offer. R. A. Smith, R. L. Gerry and Scott Harlan took up the bidding then, but Jones outlasted them all. This colt was of excellent type, and he elicited favorable comment from all sides.

A bay colt by Fair Play—Crystal Maid went to the Rancocas Stable for $9,900, after Harlan made a number of bids for him. The latter finally succeeded in getting one of the topnotchers when his bid of $9,000 was accepted for a brown filly by Ultimus—Thirty Third. Harlan was acting for the Greentree Stable, whose horses he trains.

JIM ALLEN MAY YET FIND HIS UMBRELLA

Editor James M. Allen, of the Cynthiana Democrat, who has been advertising thirty years or more for a gold headed umbrella he lost may take renewed hope from the following:

"George W. Vermillion, who lives on the Stanford pike, two miles from Danville, found a gold breast pin in his garden. The pin had been plowed up in the spring and evidently had been in his garden for more than a quarter of a century, as Mr. Vermillion has been living at the place for 28 years, and does not remember anyone in his family losing it."

The Standard of Comparison

Lowest Insurance Rates

All 1923 Buick models have been awarded Class "A" ratings by the underwriters, because of the safety of their electrical and gasoline systems. The transmission lock on all models also materially reduces the cost of theft insurance.

The 1923 Four Cylinder Roadster

Smart, sturdy—you won't find another two-passenger four cylinder roadster that compares with this new Buick in quality or in price.

Inspect it from any angle—snug, beautifully tailored top; long, low body lines; heavy one-piece crown fenders; lots of room for two people and two compartments for their luggage. A big steering wheel that comes up to you, a shifting lever that operates without bending forward, a transmission lock, and improvements which give 1923 Buicks a Class "A" insurance rating.

And, below the surface, the famous Buick Valve-in-Head motor and chassis with refinements throughout which set a new standard of quality and performance in automobiles.

CHILD RUN OVER BY AUTO

While crossing Scott avenue, near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Price Sunday afternoon, Frank Horine, aged six, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Horine, of Scott avenue was struck and knocked down by an auto driven by Will Collier, colored, who was approaching from the Vine street intersection. The little child did not see the approaching machine, or if he did was unable to get out of the way in time to avoid being struck. After striking the child the machine left the road and plunged into a telephone pole, being slightly damaged.

The child's screams attracted the attention of neighbors, who went to the scene and had him taken to his parents' home. Dr. J. T. Brown was called and found the child to have been badly injured about the head, face and body, two teeth knocked out and his jawbone broken. He was given medical attention and made as comfortable as possible.

It was alleged yesterday that the car was a borrowed one, the license tag bearing the number of 10417, indicating it to be the property of Evelyn C. Marks. A warrant was sworn out yesterday afternoon by the child's father for Collier's arrest and placed in the hands of Patrolman Robert E. Lusk to serve.

BOLD BURGLARS BUSY

Burglars paid a visit Saturday night or Sunday morning to the shoe store of Posner Bros., on Main street, between Third and Fourth, getting away with four pairs of shoes, the only thing missing. The thief or thieves broke a pane of glass in a window on the side, and detaching a rod used to fasten the window, effected an entrance. In taking their departure they left both rear doors open. The robbery was discovered by Ben Posner when he came to the store Sunday morning. The police were notified. This is the second time burglars have visited the store.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

Jim Bedinger, colored, was presented before Judge Geo. Batterton, in the County Court, Friday, on a charge of beating and abusing his wife, Mattie Bedinger. He was given a jail sentence of thirty days for exercising his muscles upon his better-half.

In the County Court yesterday Judge George Batterton assessed a fine of $14.25 against Jerry Jackson, colored, charged with reckless driving. It was stated that Jackson had run over and killed a dog belonging to Mrs. Elbridge Snapp.

STREET SIGNS NEEDED

Postmaster J. Walter Payne is making an earnest effort to induce the citizens of Paris, the City Council and the Paris Commercial Club to see that street names are placed in the corners of all intersecting thoroughfares, and numbers placed over the doors of all residences and business houses in the city.

The Government requires that every resident and business house have a suitable receptacle for mail placed on their premises and authorizes the Postmaster to discontinue the free delivery of mail at the premises until the order is complied with.

SHOOTS AT BURGLAR

The families of A. C. Baker and Everett Gifford occupy a double house on Eighth street. Shots fired in that vicinity at a late hour Saturday night roused the neighborhood, and many anxious inquiries were made as to the cause.

On returning home late that night Mr. Gifford, brother of Mrs. Baker, who resides with the family, found a man apparently endeavoring to force an entrance to the home from the back porch. Upon hearing Mr. Gifford coming toward him the man fled, pursued by Mr. Gifford, who fired two shots at the fugitive, neither tending to stop him. The man made a running jump over a high board fence and disappeared in Singer's Alley. Patrolman Geo. M. Hill responded to a call, and searched the neighborhood, to no avail, as the would-be burglar had disappeared, leaving no trace behind.

BLUE GRASS CHAMPIONSHIP

Below is a copy taken from the Sportsmen's Review, published at Cincinnati, last week: "The Blue Grass Championship shoot is to be the feature event of the Hill Top Gun Club, Paris, Ky., on Labor Day, September 4th. A splendid program with many special trophies has been arranged. The shooters who attended the recent Kentucky State shoot on the grounds of the Hill Top Club, know what splendid arrangements are always made for shoots, of which Mr. Alfred Clay is in charge, so there is no need to say anything further concerning the preparations for the Labor Day shoot. There will no doubt be a large crowd in attendance."

IHLSENG—NUNAN

—Paris friends of the prospective bridegroom will be interested in an announcement of the engagement of Thomas Nunan, of Winchester, well-known to many Paris people, to Miss Olga Katherine Ihlseng, of New York City. The wedding is scheduled to take place in New York in the early days of September. After a honeymoon trip Mr. Nunan and his bride will live in the South. Mr. Nunan is a graduate of the University of Kentucky, and during the war served as Captain in the 309th Engineers. Miss Ihlseng was graduated from Barnard College, and has been engaged in philanthropic work since leaving college. Her mother is vice-regent of the Daughters of the Revolution of the State of New York.

BURNS—HILL

—Friends of the young couple will be surprised to learn of the wedding of Miss Mary Frances Burns and Mr. Clarence Hill, both of Paris, which took place in Jeffersonville, Indiana, at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Miss Burns and Mr. Hill, accompanied by Miss Margaret Ewalt and Craig Tucker, of Paris, left Saturday morning for a visit to friends in Louisville. When they arrived there the young couple decided that as Jeffersonville was so close and the opportunity so appealing they would cross the river and get married. Crossing over they secured license and were married by one of the Jeffersonville ministers.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hill returned to Louisville, where they spent the day. They returned to Paris Sunday night and are for the present at the home of the groom's parents, in this city.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burns, of South Main street, and is a very attractive and popular young woman. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hill, and is associated with his father in the Drury Baking Co., in this city.

CROWE—WALLER

—The wedding of Miss Thelma Crowe and Mr. James W. Waller, formerly of Paris, which took place in Washington, D. C., last Thursday, was one of the social events of the mid-summer season in the Nation's Capital. The Washington Post, of Thursday, gives the following account of the wedding:

"Miss Thelma Christine Crowe, daughter of Mr. Louis H. Crowe, of Isle of Man, England, and Mr. James William Waller, formerly of Paris, Ky., now of Washington, were married by the Rev. Dr. Allen Griffith in St. John's church, at 7:30 o'clock last evening. The church was decorated with tall candelabra and white cut flowers against a background of palms and ferns. Dr. Dickinson gave a program of organ music preceding the ceremony.

"The bride, who was given in marriage by her host and guardian Mr. Theodore P. Artaud, wore a gown of white georgette and lace with paneled back with a train of Venetian lace and a veil of net, made in the crown effect. She carried lilies of the valley and orchids. Mrs. William Allen Clark, of Cincinnati, Ohio, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and wore a gown of pink georgette crepe trimmed with silver cloth and a picture hat to match. She carried Ophelia roses. The two bridesmaids Miss Vera Allen, of St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Kathleen Jones, of Danforth, Va., wore frocks of orchid-colored organdy with silver girdles and picture hats of the same material and carried Russell roses.

Little Miss Helen Emmett, of Washington, the flower girl, wore a frock of ivory white taffeta and net and carried a basket of pink roses.

"Mr. Hugh Ferguson, of Paris, Ky., served as best man for his cousin, and the ushers included Mr. John Lucas, of Baltimore; Mr. Harry Sargent, of St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. Robert D. Armstrong, Mr. A. H. Knowlton and Mr. R. J. Lehman.

"A small reception for the bridal couple was held at the apartment of Mr. Artaud, after which they left for a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Va., and a visit to Mr. Waller's relatives in Kentucky. They will be gone about six weeks and will be at home in Northbrook Courts, October 1.

"Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Henry T. Judy, of Paris, Ky., and Mrs. M. L. Gunn, of Harlan, Ky., both sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Virginia Ferguson, of Lagrange, Ky., a cousin of the bridegroom.

OVER THE HILL AT ALAMO AND GRAND

"Over the Hill," the new William Fox feature photoplay that swept New York off its feet for a run of a solid year on Broadway, was shown yesterday at the Alamo and Grand.

The local premiere, which had been awaited with keen interest, proved beyond the shadow of doubt that "Over the Hill" is all that our New York friends declared it to be, and judging from many comments on its first screening here, it is one of the biggest hits that we have ever enjoyed.

A large audience was on hand to greet the picture and give it a hearty and richly deserved welcome; paying not only the tribute of spontaneous laughter to its many delightful comedy scenes, but paying also the rarer tribute of sympathetic tears to its pathetic episode.

The story, which was taken from Will Carleton's poems, recounts the joys and sorrows of a typical mother, who raises a large family of children, only to have them, in her old age, allow her to drift from them, to live on charity. The "black sheep" son, however, when he discovers this condition, comes to his aged mother's rescue, and all ends happily—with the little mother, just like every true mother that ever lived, forgiving and forgetting.

At the Alamo and Grand this (Tuesday) afternoon and evening.

dal party and out-of-town guests at dinner on the roof garden of the Powhatan Hotel, Monday night, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Potter entertained them for Tuesday night at dinner, at Wardman Park Hotel.

Mr. Waller is a member of the clerical staff in the office of the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, where he has been stationed for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Waller are at present at Hot Springs, Virginia, but will come to Paris Saturday to be guests for several days of relatives.

THREE FAMOUS STARS IN "THE SLEEP WALKER"

"The Hennessey troupe." That's what facetious persons called the Constance Binney company as it made "The Sleep Walker" for Famous Players-Lasky Corporation. The remark was called forth by the fact that the production has "three stars," same as a well-known pre-Volstead drink manufactured by a certain "Hennessey."

The "three stars" of "The Sleep Walker," which will be on the screen at The Alamo and Grand Thursday afternoon and evening are Constance Binney, star of the production; Florence Roberts, famous old-time stage star in "Zaza," "Sapho" and "The Eternal Magdalene" and Cleo Ridgley, star and co-star in Paramount Pictures, who, after a prolonged plunge into private life, recently returned to the screen.

The judges will be Misses Rogers and Heller, and Russell Frank. Following the swim the social committee will serve the participants with refreshments. Miss Emily Fithian, swimming director for the girls' classes will have charge of the contest. A big crowd is expected to see the girls.

The story deals with the experiences of an innocent convent girl suddenly drawn into a vortex of intrigue, complicated in a thrillingly dramatic manner by her own habit of sleep-walking. The fact that it was written by Aubrey Stauffer, former theatre owner and manager, is offered as proof of its possession of audience quality. Wells Hastings wrote the scenario while Edward La Saint directed. The supporting players are excellent.

SUIT AGAINST OIL COMPANY

A suit for $712,500, the outgrowth of a transaction in oil properties in 1917, involving land titles has been filed against the United Oil Co., of Lexington and Cleveland, O., in the Estill Circuit Court at Irvine, by Attorneys Robt. C. Talbott and Virgil Chapman, of Paris, in conjunction with Robt. Franklin, of Lexington, representing J. Fred Miles, of Lexington, president and general manager of the Swiss Oil Corporation.

BUGGY DEMOLISHED BY AUTO

While driving in his automobile on the Maysville road near Paris, Paul Brannon collided with a horse and buggy driven by Ike Fretwell, colored. The buggy was demolished and Fretwell was thrown out, receiving slight injuries. Several automobiles parked on the side of the road with their glaring headlights caused Mr. Brannon to lose sight of the road. He was accompanied by Mrs. Brannon, and Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius James. None was injured.

STOLEN AUTO RECOVERED

While Mrs. Frank Crowder, of Paris, was attending services at the Baptist church, her automobile was stolen from in front of the church building. Sheriff M. Peale Collier, of Paris, communicated with officials in a number of surrounding towns, and the missing machine was finally located in Winchester by Chief of Police Mullins, of that city. The machine was uninjured, but several tools were missing from the tool box. The car was restored to Mrs. Crowder.

AUTOISTS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank VanPelt, of Paris, had a narrow escape from serious injury while driving in their automobile on the Maysville road, near Paris. A colt on which a boy was riding became frightened at the machine and plunged headlong at it, driving his head through the windshield. The scattering glass inflicted a number of cuts on the occupants of the machine. The horse was badly cut about the head and back, and the boy was slightly injured.

BOOSTING BOURBON SCHOOLS

The last issue of the Kentucky School News, published at Frankfort in the interest of the schools of the State, was in the nature of a boost for the schools of Paris and the county, being designated as the "Bourbon County School Edition." The paper contained a number of articles regarding the schools, of especial interest to the people of the city and county, and was featured with half-tones of Supt. J. M. McVey, Supt. Lee Kirkpatrick, Prof. J. W. Lancaster, and several of the local and county school buildings. In the editorial column it was stated "This edition was made possible through the efforts of the Paris Commercial Club, in co-operation with the county and city school authorities and a number of Paris and Millersburg advertisers."

THE BOURBON GUN CLUB

Our regular afternoon shoot will be held this coming Wednesday afternoon at our Club Grounds in East Paris. The trophy, a beautiful traveling roll, donated by A. J. Winters & Co., is now on display in their large show window. A large crowd of shooters will be on hand in order to practice up for the dove shooting which opens the last of next week, and also the big Labor Day shoot, which will be held at Alfred Clay's Hill Top Gun Club Grounds. This is an all-day shoot, and one that Mr. Clay has been having on Labor Day for several years. It is known as the "Blue Grass Championship," and always attracts a large crowd of local and visiting shooters. Mr. Clay will serve the dinner at this shoot, and has reserved several of his famous old hams, which, with plenty of fried chicken and other good things to eat, will make some feed that you will remember for a long time. Visitors are always welcome.

WOMEN'S WOES

Paris Women Are Finding Relief at Last

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constant aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Keeping the kidneys well has spared thousands of women much misery. Read of a remedy for kidneys only, that is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. J. R. Moore, 133 E. Eighth street, Paris, says: "I was in bad shape with my kidneys and I was weak and miserable. I often had to let my housework go undone and I got so dizzy, black specks came before my eyes. My feet and ankles swelled. I doctored for a time but got no relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. My health was greatly improved in a short time and two boxes cured me. It is a pleasure for me to recommend Doan's."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Moore had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

LONGEVITY IN THE HILLS

The recent death of "Uncle John" Shell, who claimed to be 134 years old, in Leslie county, stresses the claim of the Kentucky mountains to longevity. The mountain patriarch may not have attained the extraordinary age he claimed, but there seems ample warrant for the belief that he was well over the century mark.

The case of "Uncle John" but emphasizes the fact that the mountains of Kentucky always have been associated with longevity and this has been featured in every Federal census report.

Being close to nature and leading the simple life seems to make for the lengthening of the span of earthly existence and, like the rest of his people, "Uncle John" attributed his life to his habits and environment.

Centenarians are not uncommon in the mountains, but it is only when one approaches anything like the span reached by the Leslie county patriarch that public attention is attracted to what ordinarily passes unnoticed in a section where great age is more often not a mark of senility and decrepitude. Five living generations in one family is a rarity, but it is encountered in the highlands of Kentucky and four generations of a family hardly attracts notice.

"RUNNYMEADE" MAY BE LEASED

A special dispatch from Lexington to the Cincinnati Enquirer contained the following regarding "Runnymede Farm," the beautiful country estate near Paris, former home of the late Col. E. F. Clay:

"Brutus J. Clay, master of the famous 'Runnymede Farm,' near Paris, announces that he will either lease this place or take a number of thoroughbred stallions and mares the coming year. Runnymede, for years owned by Col. E. F. Clay, farmer and President of the State Racing Commission, one of the most widely-known breeders in America, is the home of imp. Billet, Hindoo, Sir Dixon and imp. Star Shoot (until 1912), and the birthplace of Runnymede (imp. Billet), Barnes, Miss Woodford, Raceland, Hanover, Sir Dixon, Belvidere, Sallie McClelland, The Butterflies, Blues, Ben Brush, Kilmarnock, Running Water, Kentucky Beau, Ocean Bound and many other noted race horses."

Matter of Application.

By dint of doing a little, or even a very little, every day, there is no lover of poetry and beauty who in the course of a few months might not be as deep as a bee in some of the sweetest flowers of other languages.—Leigh Hunt.

REAL HOBO IS FRIEND OF WORK

Denver Dutchy Declares That Wanderers Bear Brunt of Many Heavy Tasks.

BEMOANS THE DEAR OLD DAYS

Old Thoroughbred Tramp Has Passed and Profession Has Petered Out—Only in Comics Do You See Tried and True Tramp.

Seattle, Wash.—Where are the tramps of yesterday?—those aptly dubbed "knights of the road," who, in halcyon days, were a common sight along stretches of railroad right-of-ways, throughout the country. Shiftless, happy-go-lucky fellows they were—readily identified as "wandering Willies," or members of the roving mendicant fraternity, by their makeshift hats, unkempt and usually unwashed stubble beards, ill-fitting patched trousers, nondescript coats, battered and tattered oversized shoes, but, best of all, by the tools of their "trade," a tin can and bandana handkerchief bundle which they carried on the end of a short stick over the shoulders.

"Alas, poor Dusty Rhodes! I knew him well, Horatio!" moaned Denver Dutchy, a more or less retired veteran of the road, as he gently closed a grimy paper-bound edition of Emerson's Essays, which he had been reading for diversion while "beating it a division," several weeks ago in a box car from Pueblo to Denver, Colo., over the Colorado & Southern railroad.

His traveling companion and confidante of the last three days, the reporter, a mere novice, whose experience as a hobo consisted of a trifling 23,000 miles covered at intervals during a period of four years, had asked for reminiscences of the old days when "box cars were box cars, and men were men," stirred by fond memories of the past, was visibly affected.

Bemoans Dear Old Days.

"Ah, will those dear days ever come again," he said almost sadly, shifting his weight as the train took a sharp curve and rumbled into a long, dark tunnel in the mountain side. When daylight again shone through the open door Dutchy continued: "I think not. The old thoroughbred tramp has passed, and the profession has petered out. Only in the comics do you see the tried and true tramp of yesterday.

"Tramp life is a different life now from what it was ten years ago. And what makes it different is this: The old-time tramp was on the road to do as little work as possible. When he needed a stake to hold him over the winter in the North there were plenty of jobs in almost any town where he could put in a few days' work and come clear with enough money to live for a few weeks. On the road he could always tackle a woodpile for some 'kind lady' and get fed. Then, again, the jungles in every town were always full of 'bos' who had plenty of food they had bummed or had bought.

"Getting was easy in those days," Dutchy went on. "But now! There are several million men on the road—tramps and bums all—but they're not on the road because they want to be. Unemployment has put them there. Homeless, penniless and sometimes friendless, they are beating it from one town to another looking for work.

Few Realize Hardships.

"People in the city with jobs don't know what a hobo is up against. For that matter few of them know what a hobo, in the true sense of the word, is. They don't know that a real hobo is a traveling workman who does some of the hardest and poorest paid labor in the United States. Who harvests the great grain crops of the Middle West each year? Hobos who drift in from all over the country harvest it. They also build the railroads, irrigation projects and other construction jobs; cut the timber in the often-lousy logging camps, harvest the ice crops, work in mines and oil fields, and perform other work that lasts for only a short time and which only the drifters will tackle. A hobo will only bum when he is down and out and can't work out a meal."

Denver Dutchy said many other things. Subsequent investigation finds that he is correct. The hobo is a worker.

Conditions on the road are pitiful. In parts of the country where the unemployment situation is not critical the life is not so hard, but in portions where it is, as in the entire Southwest, many hobos are leading a life that is really worse than that of a hunted animal. Railroad detectives and special agents chase them off trains and out of railroad yards and the local police order them out of towns or arrest them for vagrancy.

Drastic Laws Against Them.

Many states, especially Texas, have drastic laws under which a man must serve from one to eleven months on road chain gangs if found guilty of vagrancy. This punishment has made many men bitter against the police and citizens of many cities, and agitators and agents of several radical organizations are using this fact as an argument toward enlisting hobos to their various causes.

In the Northwest, posted at nearly every important freight division point, are representatives of the L. W. W. who solicit and often succeed in enrolling hobos for "red cards" on the strength of this argument alone. They hold the fact that the administration responsible in a large measure for national unemployment.

"Here's a land of plenty," they say. "You, a human being must wander through it starving, cold and tired with no place to lay your head. An alley cat or stray dog is better off than you are."

Few people realize what segregation of these two or three million idle men would mean. If there were not these hobos swarming in hordes over the railroads in every section of the Union, the unemployed permanent residents of most of the cities and towns would have less chance of getting positions. The city man should be thankful that there are hobos in times when work is plentiful.

Outlook Bad for 1922.

The outlook for 1922 is unfavorable, especially for the winter. With so many mines and mills shut down, and with the harvest season and construction jobs nearly over, it will not be long before several hundred thousand hobos will again have to "hit the road." Most old-timers predict a winter that will be worse than last year, one that brought much suffering.

Jails will have to be thrown open and winter quarters provided as well as bread lines formed.

Hobos everywhere advise youngsters not to try to beat their way anywhere at present, especially riding "blind baggage" on passenger trains. Mail guards have shot and killed so many suspects that it is unsafe.

Besides these hardships, there are more severe ones that tax a man's endurance to the utmost. In some towns throughout the nation the restaurants and homes have been pestered so much by hungry men seeking work that several men have actually starved to death in them.—Ted Seelen in the Chicago Daily News.

LARGEST RADIO VACUUM TUBE

AGED TREE IS BLOWN DOWN

"Lookout," Largest Cypress in State of Florida, Was 49 Feet in Circumference.

Moore Haven, Fla.—The "lookout tree," a cypress believed to be the largest in Florida and which had stood for ages near the shore of Lake Okeechobee, a short distance from the settlement of Belle Glade, has been blown down. It was 49 feet in circumference.

At the base was an artificial mound of sand believed to have been carried there from the lake shore by mound builders, who once were inhabitants of the territory. The Indians or prehistoric people buried many of their dead in the mound, for numerous specimens of human bones have been recovered from it. One of the most interesting of these was a wristbone encircled by a crude handcuff, a recent discovery.

United States Offers Sum to Potawatamies in Canada Waiving Rights to Wisconsin Land.

London, Ont.—A. G. Chisholm, solicitor for a number of Indian tribes in western Ontario, announced that at a recent conference in Ottawa with Indian department officials he had been informed that the American government would pay $2,500,000 to the Potawatamies Indians who are resident in Canada in payment for certain rights they once held in what is now Wisconsin.

Drastic Laws Against Them.

Many states, especially Texas, have drastic laws under which a man must serve from one to eleven months on road chain gangs if found guilty of vagrancy. This punishment has made many men bitter against the police and citizens of many cities, and agitators and agents of several radical organizations are using this fact as an argument toward enlisting hobos to their various causes.

LANCASTER MAN MAKES FINE PIPES

Garrard county has a unique factory in which the machinery consists of only a pocket knife and the material used an ordinary corn cob. And yet this "factory" is always taxed far beyond its capacity, for its output is known almost throughout the wide world. Sam Hurt corn cob pipes are seen in the halls of the United States Senate, in the offices of some of the most prominent financiers on Wall street and has customers in almost every State in the Union.

The only tools used by Mr. Hurt in the manufacture of his pipes are his pocket knife and a small iron rod, which he uses for burning out the hole for the stem. With these implements and a good stock of corn cobs Mr. Hurt is able to turn out enough pipes to yield him a nice income, but not anything like able to supply the ever-increasing demand for his pipes.

Jails will have to be thrown open and winter quarters provided as well as bread lines formed.

RED TAPE CAUSES 6,000 MILE ROUND TRIP

Again red tape has clashed with human kindness in the administration of the "quota" immigration laws.

And red tape has triumphed with a triple result:

One: The young wife of a Belgian resident of Chicago, who has filed his declaration to become an American citizen, is being forced to make an extra 6,000-mile trip to Europe in order to gain admittance to the United States for her eight-year-old son. The woman herself is admissible, having lived for some time at Chicago with her husband before she returned to Europe. But the child cannot be admitted until another month's quota rolls around.

Two: The husband, already crushed by the ruin of war in Belgium and struggling for a new start in America, is forced to bear the expense of the extra 6,000-mile trip to postpone the reunion with wife and child on which his heart was set.

Three: Official Washington is aroused. Whatever their attitude on the merits of the "quota" immigration laws may be, legislators are preparing to demand that their enforcement be tempered by reason and kindness and that more emphasis be laid on the spirit of the regulations than on their letter.

THE BOURBON NEWS.

First Known Use of Ink. The bureau of standards says that the earliest use of liquid which can be described as ink is found in the remnants of ancient Egyptian civilizations, and the date was probably about 2500 B. C. Chinese or Indian ink is known to have been in existence about this time. These inks were black and their base was carbon. Probably gum, oil or varnish was mixed with it.

SENATOR STANLEY CHAMPIONS THE HOBOES

Francis Emory Warren, United States Senator and livestock raiser, dislikes "dam fool" investigations, for instance, those involving votes on wool schedules in tariff bills, but he made it plain in the Senate that he has no love for "free trade hoboies."

But the "free trade hoboies" have a champion in Senator Stanley, who, in retorting, said among other things:

"I am very proud to be numbered among the free trade hoboies. I am proud of the fact that I have lived in the estimation of my people and almost continuously commissioned by them for twenty long years in the highest places in the gift of the proud Commonwealth of Kentucky, and yet I never saw the day nor the hour in all my life when I had $500 over and above my indebtedness."

"I have been too busy to make money. Is that a reason for shame? Is that a crime? I am as proud of my poverty as the Senator is of his wool. Underlaying it all is that fine record of the man who speaks of the property poor, but has not had any opportunity, that has been reflected by any member or Senator on the other side of the chamber. The Senator from Wyoming personally is not to be blamed; that is not his personal opinion, he got that in the atmosphere he breathes on the other side. That is a Federalist tradition as dear to the hearts of Republicanism as a plow under a tariff."

COMMUNITY PICNIC LABOR DAY, SEPTEMBER 4

The big community picnic to be held in the woodland of Forrest Letton, on the Lexington road, on Monday, September 4, is the talk of the town. Everybody is on the tiptoe of expectation. Little children, young people, women's sewing societies, men's clubs, old and young, the lame and the halt, in fact, everybody who can talk or express themselves in the sign language, is talking of the big picnic. Think of the musical treat the Maysville Boys' Band for the day. The event will take on the nature of another "Home-Coming Day" for hundreds. Only fourteen more days to wait—and then—the great day!

INVENT RADIO TYPEWRITER

Typewriting in an airplane flying among the clouds with radio machinery duplicating the letters at a ground station miles away and reeling the message off in print, is a development announced by the navy department as giving to naval aircraft "a means of communication in advance of radio telegraph and telephone system now in current use."

Success already attained by experts working in conjunction with the navy, the department asserted, assures the practicability of the new scheme. That such a development will be of incalculable value to all forms of aviation, commercial and military, follows inevitably on the heels of the work now being done by the navy, it is predicted.

The device has been named the "teletype."

SOLDIERS SAID TO HAVE JOINED KU KLUX

Several soldiers of the United States army at Camp Meade were said to have been among the candidates initiated into the Ku Klux Klan at spectacular open-air ceremonies of Odenton, Md., Tuesday night, in which representatives of klans from Delaware and Virginia participated.

The nephoytes at Tuesday night's ceremonies had taken off their uniforms and were wearing civilian clothes. The exact number of soldiers among the 1,500 or more witnesses of the ceremonies said there had been Klan propaganda in camp for a long time and that many soldiers had joined for the "fun of wearing a white nightgown and becoming a ghost."

So far as could be ascertained at third corps army headquarters, United States soldiers are not forbidden to join the Ku Klux Klan, nor has the army taken any position with regard to the organization.

Fast Sailing Ships.

The fastest day's record of any sailing ship on any sea was made by the Sovereign of the Seas on a passage from San Francisco to New York, when it covered 437 miles in 24 hours. The quickest passage of a clipper ship across the Atlantic was that of the Dreadnaught, from New York, to Cape Clear, Ireland, in 12 days, in 1850.

HAS PORCH AUTOS CAN'T HIT

Postmaster Whose Home is on Sharp Curve of Road Tires of Being Bumped by Speeders.

Newton, N. J.—Postmaster Lester T. Smith of Layton has a big front porch on his house, which is on Blingman's road at a point where there is a sharp curve, and for many years he has sat there in the evenings and smoked his pipe without anything happening to him. But the other day he was having a smoke when an automobile came around the bend and skidded, smashing into the porch and wrecking one end of it.

The automobile paid for the damage and went on its way and the postmaster sent for a carpenter, who worked all night and all morning putting a new end on the porch. Late in the afternoon the postmaster went out to have another smoke, but he had hardly tilted his chair back and lighted his pipe when another automobile came whizzing around the curve and skidded.

Once more the machine crashed into the porch and wrecked an end of it, and since it was the end on which he was sitting, he went down with the wreckage. But he was not hurt, and he got out of the debris in time to collect from the automobile, who paid and drove on. Then the postmaster called for the carpenter and gave orders, but not for a new front porch. He told the carpenter to tear down the front porch and build one on the rear of the house.

"Maybe I'll have peace there," he said. "Soon as I get my new porch done they can skid all they want to, but to get me they'll have to jump over the house."

BUILDING AT HIGH MARK

Reports From 141 Cities in the United States Show Greatest Activity in Years.

New York.—Building records for June, showing a total construction value of $218,674,499 in 141 cities, set a new high record for 1922, Bradstreet's reports.

The previous high mark for the year was $206,804,015 in May. The June figure compares with $127,671,278 in June, 1921.

The total for the second quarter of 1922, $683,568,331, marks a gain of 32 per cent over the high-record first quarter of this year and of 63.7 per cent above that recorded in the same quarter of 1921. This second quarter's total, it might be noted, is slightly in excess of the total for the combined first and second quarters of 1921. This total for the half-year, with 23 cities yet to be heard from as to June, is $1,200,998,472, a gain of 75.9 per cent over the like period last year.

GERMANY EXPELS COUNTESS

Hetta Trauberg, Pacifist, Driven from Native Land for Her Peace Propaganda.

Vienna.—Countess Hetta Trauberg, the German pacifist, who was interned by the Germans during the late war because she condemned submarine warfare, the deportation of Belgian and French women and children and the treatment of allied prisoners, has been expelled from Germany because she still persists in her peace propaganda.

She is at present in Vienna, where she is compiling a book, deriving much of her material from the archives of Vienna. She is said to have secured war letters exchanged between the emperor of Russia, Emperor William of Germany and the Austrian emperor, Francis Joseph.

GREATER NAVY FOR SWEDEN

Parliamentary Commission Urges the Building of Fast Cruisers and Destroyers.

Stockholm, Sweden.—A parliamentary commission, supported by navy experts, has proposed for the Swedish navy a building program for the next ten years of four fast armored cruisers, twelve destroyers, six torpedo boats, three mine layers, twenty-two submarine chasers and a number of smaller craft. The armored cruisers are to be 6,500 tons each, with a speed of thirty knots, with eight 21-centimeter and six 12-centimeter guns.

As the proposal is based on parliamentary consideration, there is a probability of its being passed at the coming session.

Board Bill Too Heavy, Prisoner Is Released

Arthur States of Lima, O., literally ate his way out of prison, where he was serving a term because of his inability to pay a fine of $1,000 on a liquor charge. He served only a few weeks when the county commissioners began figuring out results of the incarceration of States at a fixed amount a day to apply on his fine.

The board ordered him paroled with the understanding that he pay $7 a month on the fine. Eleven years will be required to liquidate it. His board had already cost the county $100. Commissioners figured that it would cost $1,249.50 to collect the fine for the state had he remained in jail.

FINDS BATS TO BE MALARIA CURE

Erection of "Roosts" Around San Antonio Made the Lowlands Habitable.

EXPERIMENTED FOR YEARS

Dr. Charles A. R. Campbell's Discoveries and Scientific Work With Bats Interests Naturalists All Over World.

Los Angeles.—Malaria, the disease that competes with tuberculosis and cancer in its heavy toll of life, has found its Nemesis since science protects and shelters the bat as the natural enemy of the malarial mosquito.

The result of Dr. Charles A. R. Campbell's discoveries and scientific work with bats and mosquitoes has interested naturalists all over the world. The first bat roost was built in San Antonio for the purpose of ridding the city of the pestilential malarial mosquito.

For years Dr. Campbell experimented on bats to discover why they were immune from the disease that wrought such havoc with human beings.

Bats Abhor Jazz.

It took a great many years for Dr. Campbell to be sure of the cause for the difference in the susceptibility of the bat and that of other mammals. W. D. Hornaday writes in the Los Angeles Times. The great difference in the anatomy of the bat was found to be in its relatively much larger spleen. It is to this organ that Dr. Campbell attributes the ability of the bat to thrive on the mosquito and consume large numbers of them without being affected.

In his experiments with bats Dr. Campbell has come across several peculiar characteristics of the animal. For instance, bats abhor jazz. A phonograph, a jazz record and a small boy stationed on the top of a hunting lodge infested with bats so startled the animals in the early morning hours as they returned to roost that they flew some two miles away, entered another lodge and never returned to the one in which they had been living for two years. The explanation of this is that the ear of the bat is so delicate that discordant or strident noises are to them the most irritating of all sensations.

The remarkable value of bats as a health service was demonstrated in San Antonio when the malaria infected swamp region around Lake Mitchell where there was abundant grazing for cattle was experimented on. It has been said that formerly it was impossible to build fences around this land bordering the lake strong enough to hold the cattle.

The myriads of mosquitoes were not only dangerous on account of their germ-carrying propensities, but their bite was too painful even for beasts having shoe-leather hides to endure. Dr. Campbell erected a bat roost on a rise in the neighborhood of the lake and in a year the place was cleared of mosquitoes and thousands of bats had taken their places. The grazing land is now covered with fine, healthy cattle and the farm land is irrigated from the waters of the lake. Malaria is almost unknown among the people dwelling in that locality.

It requires ten to fourteen days for the malaria parasite to develop in the blood of the mosquito after the insect has been infected. With a myriad of bats flying about each night in search of mosquitoes as food there is little chance of a mosquito living ten days after it is old enough to fly abroad at night.

Many Bat Roosts in San Antonio.

After the success of this campaign against malaria bat roosts were established in the southwestern outskirts of San Antonio. This was so successful in ridding that portion of the city of mosquitoes that the state erected another at the Southwestern Insane Asylum in San Antonio. Another was erected at the West Texas Military Academy in Alamo Heights. Summer homes and farms are now taking up the idea.

Some of the bat roosts erected under Dr. Campbell's supervision are of mammoth size. Often they rise to a height of thirty to fifty feet and are fifteen to twenty feet square. The largest of them accommodate from 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 bats, it is estimated. In the early evening as they take their departure for the mosquito-hunting grounds they have the appearance of a dark cloud. Bats do not range over a wide territory in their foraging expeditions, it is asserted. Ordinarily they cannot be counted to cover a radius of more than three miles and often they confine their flights to a mile or less from their roosting place.

"Wolves" Get $750,000,000.

New York.—"The Wolves of Wall Street" have robbed their victims of $750,000,000 since the close of the war through fraudulent stock promotions and bucketshops, declared District Attorney Burton in a statement discussing the work of his office for the last six months.

She Parachutes 1,600 Feet.

Rome.—Signora Geraldine Grey Loftred ascended in an airplane at the Centocelle military flying grounds, and descended over 1,600 feet in a parachute. She is the first woman to have achieved such a perilous feat in Italy.

Maniac, Alone on Ship, Comes From "Nowhere"

New Bedford, Mass.—A 30-foot schooner, a battered and mastless, was discovered ashore on West Island, in the outer harbor here recently. On board the hulk was Osmund Erickson, who said his address was the sea. When found he was eating a handful of grass.

Erickson, who was suffering from starvation, was unable to tell where the vessel came from. According to police his memory was impaired by the privations he had undergone.

The schooner, the name of which could not be determined, carried a crudely arranged mast to replace two that had apparently been carried away by a storm. This mast was about six feet high and pieces of old clothing had been used for sails. The hull had been mended in several places with bits of zinc and tin.

FIND NEW ANIMAL FOSSILS

Specimens Discovered in Arizona Throw Light on American Life in Pliocene Age.

Washington.—Animal fossils throwing a new light on the little-known animal life of America in the Pliocene age, have been added to the collection of the Smithsonian Institution by the field explorations conducted in Arizona in the past year, and described in a report by the institution. Among the most interesting specimens discovered, the report said, are a new species of mastodon, a large and small species of camel and two or three species of horses. J. W. Gidley, member of the Smithsonian staff, who conducted the explorations, says the collection of fossils "represents practically a new fauna of the Pliocene age, containing about 60 vertebrate species."

Dealing with the astrophysical field work of the institution, the report said the observations of the sun now being made at its station on Mount Monte-zuma, Chile, are being telegraphed daily to Buenos Aires and "employed regularly by the Argentine weather bureau for weather forecasting purposes."

"While the Smithsonian Institution," the report said, "is not yet in a position to champion the use of statistics of solar variation for weather forecasts, the great interest which its studies of solar variability have aroused here and abroad seems clearly to warrant the continued maintenance of its two stations until a satisfactory basis for a test of the solar variability as a weather forecasting element has been laid."

KERENSKY TO TELL SECRETS

Memoirs Say He Sought to Save the Czar, but Was Frustrated by Great Britain.

London, England.—Startling revelations respecting the dethronement and death of former Emperor Nicholas are promised by Alexander Kerensky, one-time head of the Russian republic, who has been quietly writing his memoirs in a London flat. Kerensky's plan was to spirit the emperor out of Russia to a neutral European country or to the United States, but this, he contends, was frustrated by Great Britain.

The book of the former Russian dictator will begin with the inception of the war and cover the final collapse of the empire. It will explain not only the cause of the Romanov overthrow, but the failure of Kerensky's own government.

The writer declares that if the allies had been willing to let Russia remain passive for a period they could have kept her as a valuable ally.

The book will point out that the entente insisted on Russia's displaying energy on the front while in the throes of a revolution at home.

His own overthrow Kerensky attributes to simultaneous pressure from the two extreme parties, the royalists on the right and the Bolsheviks on the left, in addition to the hostility of the army.

BATTLE IN RUMANIAN TRAINS

Crowds, Jamming Coaches, Often Come to Blows; Serious Accidents Frequent.

Galatz, Rumania.—Some railroad trains in Rumania are so jammed that conductors are powerless to collect fares. Hence the impression is conveyed that one may travel for nothing, which serves only to bring larger numbers to the already overcrowded coaches.

Like most other war-affected countries, Rumania has not enough passenger coaches to take care of the throngs who want to travel. The Germans and Austrians confiscated most of the rolling stock. Passengers today are forced to ride on the roofs, bumpers, running boards, and even on the undertrucks of the coaches. Fist fights, to say nothing of accidents, fatal and otherwise, are of frequent occurrence.

TRIAL DATE TO BE SET TO-DAY.

At a conference in Winchester, between attorneys of Reese Fox, charged with complicity in the murder of Leon Renaker and County Attorney H. H. Moore, it was decided to fix the date for the examining trial Tuesday, when the commonwealth and the defense will have a second conference. G. F. Wycoff, who, with Colonel J. S. Winn is defending Fox, stated that the trial would be held shortly after the conference Tuesday. County Judge R. S. Scober will probably be the examining officer.

Fox was brought from his "bridal suite" in the jail to the office of Colonel Winn, his attorneys, Saturday afternoon, where he and his lawyers conferred the greater part of the afternoon. Fox still sticks to his story of not guilty.

Officials denied published reports to the effect that the body of Leon Renaker was disinterred Friday for the purpose of determining whether a piece of lead pipe, reported to have been found, would fit into the wounds on Renaker's head.

They asserted that no weapon had been found, although it was presumed the blunt instrument used by the slayer was a piece of lead pipe. A reward of $50 has been offered for the finding of the weapon.

DEATHS

—Miss Sarah Hanson, 98 years old, a former resident of Paris, believed to have been Lexington's oldest resident, died Saturday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital of the effects of a fall she suffered several weeks ago. Miss Hanson was a member of distinguished families who have taken prominent part in Kentucky affairs for generations.

She was the daughter of the Hon. Samuel Hanson and Matilda Caloway Hanson, and her mother was a daughter of Col. Richard Caloway, a pioneer among Kentucky lawyers. Mr. Hanson served often in the House and Senate in Kentucky and was president pro tem of the Senate when Governor James Clark died and was succeeded by Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Wickliffe. Mr. Hanson then became acting Lieutenant-governor. Three sons, General Roger Hanson, R. H. Hanson and Colonel Charles Hanson, were lawyers at Paris. Samuel Hanson served in the Union Army and Col. Chas. S. Hanson and Isaac Hanson served in the Confederate Army during the Civil War.

Funeral services were held at the grave in the family lot in the Winchester Cemetery, Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the Rev. J. H. MacNeill officiating. The body was removed from the hospital to the home of Mrs. W. R. Thomas, 472 East Main street. Miss Hanson is survived by two nephews, Charles and R. H. Hanson; one niece, Mrs. W. R. Thomas, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. C. W. Hanson.

PURCHASE OF WHISKAWAY HELP TO KENTUCKY

The purchase of Whiskaway, winner of the $50,000 added Kentucky Special last spring, by C. W. Clark, and the addition of Bo McMillan to the T. J. Pendergast stable, will mean much for Kentuckiana racing during the coming season. Whiskaway should prove easily the champion of his age in the West, while it will take a sharp youngster to trim Bo McMillan. He won the Sanford Memorial and came from far back to turn the trick. Pendergast paid only $12,000 for him, and he looks like the prize buy of the year. Trainer L. Cahn named him for all the two-year-old stakes at the three Kentucky tracks.

THE OLD COON DOG

Like the rest of the country, Kentucky in recent years has gone in for fine dogs and many breeding kennels are operated for the production of fashionable strains. The breeding embraces practically the entire range of the canine species and the interest is sustained by bench shows and field trials to determine the individual fine points.

In rural Kentucky, however, there is a type of dog that seems secure against any displacement by the fancy-breed species. This is a good "coon" dog. Ordinarily a mongrel with no claim to pedigree, the real "coon" dog is a find that develops the essential qualities of "treeing" and strategy in combat with its game and wily prey. It might be said that every dog has its price, but a good "coon" dog is practically invaluable and rarely parted with.

POLITICAL CUSTOMS CHANGED IN KENTUCKY.

Like everything else political customs have changed in Kentucky and demagogue has lost much of its cunning with the electorate. The demagogue that would try to "pull some of the stuff" that made for votes in other days would be laughed to scorn and regarded as a fit subject to be bored for the simple.

A dozen years ago a candidate for office hardly would have dared to venture forth in quest of votes riding in an automobile. Now even the candidate for constable rides in a machine on his electioneering trips. It used to be the vote getting way for a candidate when he started to canvass a rural district, to go unshaven and shabbily dressed ostensibly to curry favor with the rural voters, but now such a makeup would make him ridiculous with the same voters.

Then he kissed the babies and dined on how they took after their mother and how she baked better biscuits than anyone else and so on. He knows better than to try that now. About the only thing that the old-time candidate did that some of the dear "peepul" might stand for at this day, would be a nip of the "campaign" whisky he usually carried with him.

The erstwhile candidate had a habit of running on the demerits of his opponents instead of running upon his own merits and usually he got away with it. Now it is different and the least he has to say about the shortcomings of the other fellow the better. This is due to more of a spirit of play and sympathy for the underdog among those who now do the voting. There are tricks in all trades, but many of the old ones no longer work in Kentucky politics.

An optimist is a fellow who loans a guy $10 when said guy already owes him $20.

Yale University has established a course in citizenship for women voters of Connecticut.

Maybe the reason the ocean is blue is because it has so many things thrown up to it.
